LEWIS ESCAPES SECOND COURT RAP

TEACHER TEST IS TACKED TO SCHOOL BILL

LEGISLATORS TAKE WEEKEND RECESS AT LANSING

Lansing, April 23 (AP)—Teachers in Michigan schools would have to tell whether they are Communists if a House amendment to the school aid bill is approved in the Senate.

Before leaving for a long weekend recess yesterday, the House advanced the $70,291,776 aid bill for final vote Tuesday. The House had backed down on its insistence on final adjournment Friday and set the date for next Wednesday.

An amendment to the bill, sponsored by Rep. Henry T. Gage (R-Grosse Pointe) would require that all teachers be asked if they had been Communists during the preceding year and if they had belonged in that period to any group advocating overthrow of the United States government by force.

False statements would be punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and up to a year in prison.

School districts would be required to take such statements from all teachers before the districts would get their share of the school aid.

Changes Rejected

In the face of approval by the Senate, the House Education Committee and a special committee of school and legislative representatives, the Ways and Means Committee made three changes in the bill.

The changes would have:

Substituted a $1,300,000 appropriation to junior colleges with $1,000,000 paid on the basis of enrolled war veterans.

Eliminated a $300,000 item for adult education.

Eliminated a provision giving Detroit $413,000 extra to assist in operating Wayne University.

Rep. Bernice M. Watson (R-Flint) argued that the bill as it stood before being changed represented the first compromise rural and urban schools had ever been able to reach on a school aid bill and that the legislature should not upset it.

Ways and Means members said the original bill upset the uniform pattern of allocation of school aid and that giving Detroit extra money set a bad precedent.

By an overwhelming voice vote, the House restored the bill to its original form.

The measure would pay schools $118 per primary student and $138 per secondary student in the next fiscal year.

A bill permitting banks to close on Saturdays slipped through the House by a 51-39 vote, a bare majority. Rural opposition led to the bill's failure to pass Wednesday, but it was laid on the table then for reconsideration later.

A bill passed in the House would permit townships to use sales tax diversion money to assist counties in maintaining roads.

Walkout of 130,000 French Miners Ends

Lille, France, April 23 (AP)—The French news agency said today nearly all the 13,000 miners who struck yesterday in France's northern coal fields are back at work.

The walkout was in protest against alleged lack of safety devices in the mines. Fourteen miners were killed in a blast Monday.

SLASH IN STEEL PRICES PRAISED

Company Hopes To Curb High Living Costs

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Senator Flanders (R-Vt) today called the U. S. Steel Corporation price cut a "contribution to deflation."

"The company has done its duty in trying to reduce living costs," Flanders told a reporter. "Now its squarely up to the union to accept in good grace the company's decision not to increase wages."

President Benjamin J. Fairless announced yesterday that the corporation was reducing steel prices by about $25,000,000 a year. He said it was an effort to halt rising living costs.

Fairless coupled this announcement with a rejection of the CIO United Steelworkers' demand for a wage boost.

Flanders is one of those in Congress who criticized the steel industry when it hiked prices last February. The increase resulted in a congressional investigation.

"U. S. Steel has done a very proper thing," Flanders commented. "I only hope that others in and out of the steel industry will follow suit."

Kansas City Police Clean Out Strikers At Cudahy Building

Kansas City, Kas., April 23 (AP)—Seventy police, under orders to "get tough," clashed with CIO strikers at the Cudahy Packing company plant today and cleaned out a union headquarters in a skull-cracking 10-minute battle.

Eight persons, including two women, were treated for head injuries at hospitals.

In a matter of minutes the hall was empty, blood and broken glass littered the floor, along with playing cards, checkers and abandoned hats.

Some union members jumped windows to get away.

The police action came after Police Capt. Eli Dahlin, had parked in front of the headquarters of the U. P. W. A. local No. 10 and started to address strikers inside the hall.

Last Michigan GAR Soldier Buried In Ceremony At Caro

Caro, Mich., April 23. (AP)—The Grand Army of the Republic is now only a memory in Michigan.

Orlando LeValley, last of the 90,000 Michigan youths who marched off to fight for the union more than eight decades ago, was buried yesterday while a farewell volley echoed over his grave.

He was 99 years old when he died Monday.

It was the largest funeral in the history of this city of 4,000 and one of the most elaborate.

Governor Sigler flew from Lansing to take part in the semi-military rites. A loudspeaker system broadcast the services to those who could not squeeze into the packed Methodist church.

NEW TEMPLE ASSURED

Muskegon, Mich., April 23 (AP)—The Muskegon Masonic Temple Association yesterday authorized construction of a new $350,000 Temple building, opposite Hackley park. The building is expected to be completed within a year.

Detroit Police Quiz Negro Communist In Shooting Of Reuther

Detroit, April 23. (AP)—Officers whisked a mystery witness into police headquarters today as they pressed their manhunt for the gunman who tried to kill Walter P. Reuther.

Prosecutor James N. McNally said the man, not identified, was the one who first gave information to police about Nelson Davis, an admitted Communist, now in custody for questioning.

McNally said the witness told police he heard Davis say he knew who shot the 40-year-old president of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Davis, 52, a Negro foundry worker at the Ford Motor Co., denied that he ever made such a remark. Davis was said by McNally to have signed a formal statement admitting that he was a Communist.

McNally emphasized however, that no charge has been placed against Davis. There is conclusive evidence that he was on the job when Reuther was attacked, McNally added.

Davis was taken to police headquarters yesterday along with three other UAW members. McNally informed his attorney Davis would be held without charge for further questioning today "by court order if necessary."

The others, Sheldon Tappes, 37, former secretary of Ford Local 600, Percy Llewellyn, ex-president of the local, and Wilfred Grant, left the station after questioning by police officers.

Prosecutor McNally said he had talked to the tipster who gave police news of Davis, and had received "some valuable information." The informant's identity remained a closely-guarded police secret.

Physicians said Reuther's right arm probably would be saved, but added he could expect to be in the hospital at least six weeks.

Rewards totaling $118,900—possibly the largest amount ever offered in this country—have been put up for information leading to the would-be killer's arrest. The gunman aimed through the window of Reuther's home while the labor leader was getting a late snack Tuesday night.

HOWARD HUGHES FIRMS INDICTED

Fraud Charged In Deals For Surplus Planes

Honolulu, April 23 (AP) — Two Howard Hughes companies and six individuals were indicted yesterday by a Federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to defraud the government in buying surplus planes.

The companies and five of the individuals were accused of using two war veterans as fronts in buying six transport planes valued at more than $600,000 for $105,000. The sixth, a former government official, was charged with having approved the sales.

U. S. District Judge Delbert E. Metzger set arraignment for May 7 and fixed bonds of $5,000 each.

The grand jury named the Hughes Tool Co., a Delaware corporation, and the Hughes Aircraft Co. along with these six individuals:

Edward J. O'Connell, Washington, D. C., until March 31 assistant chief of the War Assets Administration's territories division; Charles A. Loring, Los Angeles, attorney for the Hughes companies; Glenn Edward Odekirk, Los Angeles, assistant to the president of the Hughes Tool Co., Joseph V. Petrali, Los Angeles, an official of the Hughes Aircraft Co.; Morris Pratt Woolley, Honolulu businessman, and Frederick M. Llewellyn, Honolulu, a war veteran.

EUROPEAN REDS SLOWED DOWN

Italian Defeat Changes Communist Tactics

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, April 23 (AP)—European Communists may be compelled to switch tactics as a result of their defeat in Italy.

Officials studying this possibility said today that unless the Communists are willing to resort to violence amounting to civil war they will, at the very least, have to slow down their time table for political conquest.

Two possible moves by Russia enter into speculation.

One is that the Kremlin may order a return to the early post-war efforts to form a common front with non-Communist left wing political forces which in recent months the Communists have attacked bitterly.

Another possibility — and this one is heavily but not entirely discounted by authorities here — is that the Soviets may take the initiative in seeking a meeting between President Truman and Premier Stalin.

Along with their defeat in Italy, the Soviet-directed Communists have two other factors to consider.

First, the European recovery program fueled with American goods and dollars and based on cooperation among all the western nations is getting under way. From now on the Soviets must count on greater strength in western Europe both economically and politically.

Second, the western nations are moving rapidly to construct the framework of what the Russians regard as an anti-Soviet bloc.

SENATE HOLDS UP ACTION ON SIGLER IDEAS

FOUR-YEAR TERM MEASURE MAKES POOR HEADWAY

Lansing, April 23 (AP)—Governor Sigler's plans for changing the state constitution next fall are making poor headway in the Senate.

Sigler's proposal to give the governor and other state elective officials four-year terms was reported stymied in the Senate Judiciary committee. It already had passed the House after days of parliamentary battling.

The Judiciary committee also gave the governor victory in reverse English on his proposal to provide an easier method of calling a constitutional convention to write a new state constitution.

The committee agreed to the Sigler idea of allowing a convention to be called on a majority of those voting on the issue. Rather than a majority of those voting at the election.

Stalled Until Monday

But, it amended the proposal to require a two-thirds majority vote to adopt a constitutional change drafted by a constitutional convention. The requirement now is only a simple majority vote.

A vote on the question was stalled in the Senate until Monday night.

A bill taking off the November election ballot the question of calling a constitutional convention was passed in the Senate and sent to the House.

Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), Judiciary committee chairman, said the committee opposed the four-year term for state officials on the grounds that it separated the state elective ticket from the basic political organizations built around county officials. These are elected each two years.

Hittle said committee members believed that state, county and legislative candidates should all be elected at the same time for reasons of party strength.

Shelved in House

The House fight over the question revolved around the same issue, but four-year terms for legislators were beaten on the House floor and for county officers were pigeon-holed in committee.

Ban On Communism For Pan America Adopted in Bogota

Bogota, Colombia, April 23 (AP)—The Pan American conference unanimously adopted a resolution last night condemning international Communism and other forms of totalitarianism.

The resolution recommends that each of the 21 participating nations adopt measures to combat Communism.

It was a revised version of a resolution offered Wednesday by the United States, Peru, Chile and Brazil. Some delegates said the adopted resolution was stronger than the original.

As adopted, it condemns international Communism and the methods of violence it employs.

Delegates said the document harmonized the various shades of opinion of nations which objected to the wording of the original resolution.

Rains Help Fight Bad Forest Fires In Newaygo County

Fremont, Mich., April 23. (AP)—Steady rains today came to the aid of the hard-pressed conservation crews and volunteers fighting a forest fire hazard which since April 1 has burned over more than 500 acres in Newaygo county.

Issuance of burning permits was discontinued yesterday throughout the county. Officers Pat Robinson, with headquarters here, said more acreage had been burned over this spring within 15 miles of Fremont than during the past 10 years.

The largest blaze was brought under control yesterday after consuming 260 acres of wooded area south of Hess lake, a resort area. No buildings were destroyed.

The month's second largest fire was controlled after devastating 153 acres near Bridgeton, south of the Muskegon river.

Robinson blamed "carelessness" for most of the fires.

GETS 20 YEARS

Yokohama, April 23 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Iichiro Morimoto, who commanded all Japanese prisoner of war camps in the Philippines, was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor today by a military tribunal.

Morimoto was convicted of permitting subordinates to commit murder and atrocities against captives.

Jews Attack 3 Arab Villages, Mop Up Haifa

By The Associated Press

Palestine Jews attacked three Arab villages between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv today while Haganah consolidated the control it wrested in a swift attack on the port city of Haifa.

The attacks apparently were aimed at protecting the Jewish food lifeline between coastal Tel Aviv and the Jewish community of Jerusalem.

Haifa officials said 105 Arabs were killed yesterday in the Jewish militia's attack, which struck after British forces withdrew from all but the port area. Other reports said four Haganah men were killed. Arabs last night rejected British surrender terms as too harsh.

As world Jewry prepared to usher in the passover week tonight, the United Nations political committee again took up the Palestine question. The United States is reported to have abandoned plans to call for a special international police force for Palestine. However, the Americans are believed ready to insist upon creation of a truce commission to carry out the Security Council's cease fire order of a week ago.

King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan urged Arab nations yesterday to send their armies into Palestine to battle the Jews as soon as the British give up their League of Nations mandate May 15. The Monarch told newsmen in Amman he wants all Arab nations "to join my army in a movement to Palestine to retain the Arab character of that country." Some 10,000 of Abdullah's British-trained Arab legion already are in Palestine.

In Cairo, reliable sources said yesterday as many as 50,000 men from the regular armies of six countries will move into Palestine from three directions May 16 unless United Nations action meanwhile changes the situation.

These soldiers, the informants said, will strike north from Egypt and Saudi Arabia, west from Iraq and Trans-Jordan and south from Syria and Lebanon. They will consist either of regular army units or of army regulars released for Palestine duty.

The sources said Arab leaders are convinced they have underestimated Jewish power and that the Arab volunteer army now in Palestine will not be enough to withstand it.

STRANGLED MAN FOUND IN DITCH

Battered Body Is Puzzle For Windsor Police

Windsor, Ont., April 23 (AP)—Provincial police today sifted meager clues in hopes of tracking down the slayer of a 21-year-old youth whose battered body was found in a water-filled ditch near here yesterday.

An autopsy showed that Reinder Kuindersma of Windsor died of strangulation, caused by a cord wrapped tightly around his neck. But the victim's skull also was fractured in three places, his right ankle broken and his body covered with numerous lacerations.

Police had carried Reinder on their missing persons list since April 16. The autopsy showed he had been dead four to six days.

The partially disrobed body was discovered by two hunters late yesterday afternoon at Ojibway, a few miles south of here.

It was clad only in an undershirt and pants, stockings and one shoe. A blanket and a raincoat were wrapped around it. The victim's feet had been trussed together.

Authorities said little blood was found at the spot and they theorized that the youth was killed elsewhere.

Czechs Sign Prague Military Alliance

Prague, April 23 (AP)—Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria signed a 20-year treaty of military alliance today, pledging each other help if Germany, "or any nations connected with her," attacks either one.

The treaty will be automatically renewed for five years at the end of its first term unless either of the contracting nations notifies at the end of the 19th year that it wants to cancel the pact.

A preamble said that the action was taken in the interests of world peace and that the alliance would be within the spirit of the United Nations.

Augustana Synod Opposed To UMT

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 23. (AP)—The Illinois conference of the Lutheran Augustana Synod was on record today against compulsory military training during peacetime.

The conference earlier had declared its opposition to universal military training, and went a step further at yesterday's meeting here, Dr. A. F. Schersten of Rock Island, Ill., reported.

He said the conference also passed a resolution appealing to labor and management for greater cooperation in the settlement of disputes and asking "arbitration rather than coercion or strikes."

Night Clubs Lose, Fight Fast Time Order in Detroit

Detroit, April 23. (AP)—Daylight Saving Time will be a loss to the night clubs, Dearborn tavern owners said today in filing a suit to ban fast time in the suburban city.

The suit, filed in circuit court by the Class C Licensees association, complained that the fast time would deprive the night clubs of an hour of darkness. People drink more after dark, the owners added.

Judge Arthur Webster set a hearing for April 30 to determine whether a permanent injunction will be granted. The city is scheduled to go on Daylight Saving Time April 25, along with Detroit.

PORT PARALYZED

Singapore, April 23. (AP) — The great port of Singapore was paralyzed today by a 24-hour general strike. The stoppage, called to protest police raids on union premises and arrests of union leaders, involved about 300,000 workers, official sources said.

COAL DIGGERS TAKE HINT TO RESUME WORK

JUDGE POSTPONES FURTHER PENALTY FOR CONTEMPT

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today postponed indefinitely any further contempt penalty against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union.

Goldsborough accepted a government recommendation that he impose no further punishment at this time.

Assistant Attorney General Graham Morison said no useful purpose could be accomplished by new fines against Lewis and the union now.

Last Tuesday, Goldsborough fined Lewis $20,000 personally and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt of court. The contempt finding was based on their disregard of an April 3 court order to stop the coal strike.

Morison told Goldsborough that 85 per cent or more of the soft coal miners have returned to work.

Therefore, Morison said, he moved that a civil contempt sentence be put off "indefinitely."

Injunction Stands

The government attorney indicated that the justice department might renew its contempt charge if there is a resumption of the walkout.

Goldsborough has issued an injunction under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. This injunction, or court order, forbids continuance or renewal of the strike on grounds it would threaten the national health and safety.

Judge Goldsborough said "the court is more than happy to know that the normal situation is being restored."

"All right gentlemen," Goldsborough said without looking toward Lewis, who was in his accustomed place, "the matter is disposed of, and this court is adjourned."

Speculation before the session was that Goldsborough would let Lewis off easy this time since most of the 400,000 members of his union are back at work.

The government had hinted openly that (a) If the strike was still on today, the new penalty

Eight-Cent Raise Offered On DSR

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—Bus and street car operators of the Detroit Street Railways had an offer today of an eight-cent an hour wage boost against their demand for a 13 cent raise.

General Manager Leo J. Nowicki said the offer would raise the maximum hourly rate to $1.50 for most drivers. It would cost the DSR about $1,000,000 a year, he said.

LAYOFFS START IN AUTO PLANTS

Workers Lose Millions Due To Coal Strike

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—The first of some 200,000 General Motors Corp. workers affected by layoffs stemming from the recent coal strike go off the job tonight.

About half of the employes involved will be idle all next week while the rest face loss of at least a week's pay between now and May 17.

The workers will lose a total of $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in wages, estimated GM President Charles E. Wilson. The company announced the layoffs last week, blaming them on the coal strike which it said led to a shortage of pig iron and steel.

Michigan's Buick, Pontiac and Oldsmobile assembly plants, as well as their Fisher Body suppliers and some Chevrolet operations, close down tonight. They will remain idle at least until May 3.

Across the country 11 Chevrolet assembly plants will shut down from May 3 to May 10, and branch division plants of Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac are to send their workers home May 7 to 17.

The shutdown means an immediate loss of at least 50,000 cars and trucks to the auto industry, which has seen its stocks of steel and iron cut deeply in recent weeks.

CITY EMPLOYES VOTED RAISES

Increased Gas Rates In 1948-49 Approved

Pay increases for city employes totalling $36,000 were approved for the ensuing fiscal year at a special meeting of the Escanaba city council Thursday afternoon.

Merit raises of $5 per month for all employes not already at the maximum salary level for their classification were authorized in addition to an increase of $12 per month in the cost of living bonus paid to all city employes. About half of the city employes will qualify for the $5 per month merit raises. The $12 increase in the cost of living bonus brings the total of $19 per month that will be paid after the new fiscal year starts July 1.

The merit raises will total about $10,400 and the cost of living increase will total about $26,000 for the year.

The council also approved increases in gas rates to bring an additional $30,000 into the operating revenues of the department. The exact schedules still remain to be worked out but the increase will be sufficient to offset the present operating loss of $20,000 plus an estimated additional $10,000 to increase the return on capital investment to 4 per cent. The present return is only 1 per cent. Additional return is necessary, the city manager declared, because of the increased cost of equipment required in maintaining the utility.

City Manager Aronson recommended that the investment return be established at 6 per cent but the council reduced it to 4 per cent.

The purchase of 2½ acres of land north of the present airport from Conrad Paulson at a price of $3,000 was approved by the council. The land is needed for extension of the airport to conform to CAA requirements. Paulson was given the right to move buildings now located on the property. Buildings on the south one-third of the property are to be moved within 30 days and a larger building on the north two-thirds is to be moved within six months.

Meyer Will Speak At Engineers Meet

John E. Meyer, Saels Manager of Abrams Aerial Survey Corporation is to be the third speaker on the May 1 program at the Michigan Engineering Society annual convention in Lansing. His subject will be "The Engineer and Aerial Surveys". Many engineers are turning to aerial surveys today to furnish them quickly with accurate maps and elevations for a variety of purposes such as: pole line surveys and maps, inventories of large stockpiles at manufacturing plants, highway location maps, and city plan atlas sheets.

Mr. Meyer is eminently qualified to discuss this new "tool" for the engineers, since he is the author of many papers on many phases of aerial survey work and its use. He is also the author of several textbooks for training the civilian engineer, and of textbooks devoted to training Air Force personnel of the U. S. Army and Marine Corps during World War II. Mr. Meyer has delivered many lectures and conducted many short courses covering the interpretations of aerial surveys and of aerial photographs for technical groups, military groups, and for highway engineers throughout the United States.

The technical background of Meyer is an enviable one: graduated from the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, advanced degree in Structural Engineering at Michigan State College, Instructor in Civil Engineering at Michigan State College, Registered Engineer, and a member of the American Society of Photogrammetry.

Bark River-Harris Will Vote On School Plan

Electors of the Bark River-Harris school district will go to the polls at the Bark River community hall Monday, April 26, to decide whether they will provide funds for the building of a junior-senior high school.

The single polling place will be open from one to eight p. m., E. S. T.

There will be two proposals on the ballots.

One for increasing the tax millage by five mills beyond the 15-mill limitation on property will require a two-thirds majority of all qualified electors for passage. If adopted, the five-mill increase would be in effect for a five-year period.

The other proposal, empowering the school district to levy the five additional mills, will be submitted to property taxpayers and requires only a simple majority for adoption.

About eighty-five persons attended the mass meeting held at the Bark River community hall last night, when various phases of the school building program were discussed. Supt. Leo Brunelle presided.

After the meeting opened, the citizens were divided into several groups of eight to 10 persons each for a discussion of the proposals for about a half hour. Then, a general meeting was called for an extended question and answer period.

In response to questions, it was explained that a junior-senior high school building, which would accommodate from 350 to 400 students from the seventh to 12th grades, inclusive, would be erected when building costs are right. The high school would be accredited. The district already has acquired and paid for a 24-acre site on US-2-41, near the Menominee county line. It has about $6,000 in its building fund.

NEW AIRLINE IS PROPOSED

Would Fly Marquette To Lower Michigan

Marquette, Mich.—If plans of two men, long experienced in the air transportation business, go through, Marquette will have direct airline service to Detroit the middle of next month.

This fact was diclosed today by Harold C. Overholt, president of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce.

Irving Stahl, former secretary-treasurer of Nationwide Airlines, and Richard Olivere, former chief pilot of Nationwide Airlines, who were here Wednesday, gave Overholt definite assurance their new Copper Country Airlines Co. will establish direct air service between Detroit and Marquette "starting about May 15".

Olivere is president and Stahl secretary-treasurer of Copper Country Airlines Co., organized a short time ago.

Overholt said they were instrumental in starting Upper Peninsula service to Detroit by Nationwide Airlines, and that they are eager to get U. P. connections for their new firm.

In addition to being president of Copper Country Airlines Co., Olivere also operates a freight air line service between Bendix, N. J., and Detroit and Chicago. He served three and a half years in the Navy as a Naval Air Transport service pilot.

11 ZONING LAW APPEALS HEARD

Decisions Set Precedent Under City Ordinance

Seeking a reasonable approach to the interpretation of Escanaba's new city zoning ordinance, the city board of appeals in meeting last night permitted certain exceptions which it described as "setting a precedent" for similar cases in the future.

In the appeal of Fred J. Saykly, 212 North 14th street, to construct a basment under a house where there are two houses on the lot, the appeal board ruled that it will not approve construction of a basement but will approve the building of a foundation.

Construction of a basement would be a "major improvement" which is prohibited under the ordinance where there are two dwellings on one lot. Construction of the foundation only, as approved by the appeal board, would not be a "major improvement" but would permit the property owner to maintain the house in its present condition. The Saykly case was further complicated because both houses were within two feet of the property line. The ordinance requires that new construction or major improvements to existing structures be 8 feet from the property line on a 50-foot wide lot.

Too Large For Lot

The second case in which precedent was set, and may establish future policy in similar appeals, was in the case of John Pepin, 826 North 19th street, who requested authority to build a basement under his house. The house is too large for the lot, and cannot be moved so it will be eight feet from the property lines. The appeal board held that where the house is too large to be moved to a location on the lot to conform to the ordinance, the appeal will be granted, as it was granted in the Pepin case.

An application by Charles Propst to construct a dwelling on a half lot at the southeast corner of 12th street and Ninth avenue south was denied. Propst said that he planned to purchase the property from Harvey Gasman, and Gasman advised the appeal board that he does not plan to convert a three-car garage on the rear of the lot into a dwelling.

The appeal board denied the application because the half lot which Propst planned to purchase does not have 6,000 square feet of area required by the ordinance as site for a dwelling. The board's denial followed a precedent established by a ruling in a similar case at a previous meeting.

Must Be 8 Feet

An appeal by Gilbert Stendahl to construct a house four feet from the property line at 1504 Stephenson avenue, and less than the required distance from the front sidewalk, was denied. The board held that new construction of dwellings must be eight feet from the property line on 50 foot lots; and 28 feet, or in line with the majority of the other houses fronting on the block, as required by the ordinance.

Mrs. Conrad Anderson, 1820 First avenue south, made application to convert a garage at the rear of the lot into a beauty shop. It is a residential class zone, bordering on the Ludington street commercial. The board granted permission, but stipulated that the garage be moved away from the property line to conform to the ordinance.

Justin Stecker, 209 South Sixth street, was granted permission to tear down a garage at the rear of his house and construct a utility room. Stecker's house is one of four on one full-size city lot, a condition that has existed for many years. In razing the garage the building would be farther removed from the adjacent property line.

Refer to Planning Body

The application of Charles J. Byrns, 301 South 11th street, to construct a garage was denied because the house already occupies 90 per cent of the lot space, and the garage could not be constructed without seriously violating the zoning ordinance.

Leonard Peterson, who asked authority to construct tourist cabins at 1524 Washington avenue, was referred to the city planning commission. The zoning ordinance does not specifically class tourist cabin facilities as either residential or commercial. Clarification of the ordinance was held necessary by the appeal board.

William Papineau, 1722 Eighth avenue south, asked authority to construct and extend a new store front. The store is in a residential area, and the new front would encroach upon city property, which extends four feet inside the sidewalk line. The appeal board held it was without jurisdiction in the case.

George W. Hedsten, 1201 Washington avenue, asked authority to improve a store building in a residential area. The case was referred to the zoning commission, which could recommend changing the area to commercial if it is deemed advisable.

The appeal board took no action in the case of John B. DeGrand, who one year ago was given permission by the Escanaba city council to construct three houses on two lots. DeGrand has completed one house and is working on the others. The appeal board held that the case should not properly come up for rehearing since the council had not limited the time for DeGrand to carry out construction. The building permit given DeGrand by the council was prior to the new ordinance and before the appointment of the appeal board.

Rev. Bell Takes Part In Tour Of Industry

Twenty Presbyterian ministers, including the Rev. James H. Bell, 208 South Fourth street, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, recently took part in one of a series of unique industrial plant tours inaugurated at the American Type Founders works in Elizabeth, N. J.

MEN'S CLUB MEETING
Rev. James H. Bell will give a report on the Presbyterian Institute of Industrial Relations at the meeting of the Men's club at the First Presbyterian church here Monday evening.

Mr. Bell has been in New York City the past month attending the Presbyterian Institute of Industrial Relations, and in connection with his studies, he and others at the Institute were invited by Thomas Roy Jones, president of ATF Incorporated, to spend a day at the huge type foundry and printing equipment factory in Elizabeth.

Facing the fact that the United States' population is steadily moving to the cities, the Presbyterian church established its Industrial Relations Institute to give its leaders training, on a graduate level, that will meet the particular needs of the church in city and industrial areas, according to the Rev. Marshall L. Scott, dean of the Institute. The training is supplementary to that given in colleges and theological seminaries.

Unlike the usual plant tour in which crowds are literally herded through factories, the see-for-yourself visits arranged at American Type Founuders are for small groups—from a dozen to 30 persons, making possible thorough orientation before the trip and affording the opportunity to get all questions answered.

Will Extend Program

The initial tours have proven so successful that the plan is expected to be extended to the American Type Founders printing press factory in Mount Vernon, N. Y., and the plants of the other companies owned by ATF Incorporated. These concerns include the Daystrom Corporation, Olean and Friendship, N. Y., furniture manufacturer; Daystrom Laminates, Incorporated, Daystrom, N. C., plywood and lumber producer; and, Frederick Hart & Company, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., electronics manufacturer.

Leaders in each locality — the clergy, public officials, school principals and teachers, women's and businessmen's service clubs—as well as employe families, students, company stockholders, customers, members of professional organizations, and special groups such as the Presbyterian ministers, are scheduled to be invited.

"Our object," Mr. Jones said in describing the ATF program, "is to tell the economic story of industry, and to drive home the idea of interdependence of each group in American society.

"The employe and his family," Mr. Jones continued, "must understand the need for capital and the role the stockholder plays in business. Likewise, the stockholder should know the problems of management and the workings of the company in which he has invested his money. The customer, in turn, should have a clear conception of how the goods he buys are manufactured, and the public at large should appreciate the value of industry to a community—should know the dollars-and-cents contribution it makes to the living standards of a town."

Problems Frankly Discussed

On their visit to Elizabeth, a half-hour's trip from the Presbyterian Institute in New York City, the ministers met in the plant's conference room where officers of the company talked briefly on the organization of ATF Incorporated and its family of associated companies, and the history of the operation, which goes back to a small type foundry established by Benjamin Franklin. There followed a chart-talk spelling out in detail the financial set-up, with a breakdown of how the company dollar is spent, and a discussion of the problems of materials and expenses.

For inspection of the plant itself, the visitors were divided into groups of three or four persons, each with a thoroughly trained escort. Cards bearing descriptions of individual machines and other equipment and their cost are placed throughout the plant, to dramatize the tremendous amount of capital needed by a company to run a modern factory. Souvenirs of the trip — samples of work in production—were distributed to visitors.

After their tour, the ministers reassembled in the conference room for a luncheon — the same menu served in the ATF cafeteria —with top officials of the company, and a brief review of the day and a question-and-answer session.

Asserting that "the church, the school and the home are the foundation of the American system, and industry and farming are the backbone of the U. S. economy," Mr. Jones said, "it is up to us—to industry—to tell our story frankly and honestly. One of the best antidotes to communism or any other type of collectivism is an informed electorate. We hope that industry everywhere will embark on programs similar to ours."

Contributions Still Being Received for VFW Memory Lane

In the sixth week of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' drive for funds to purchase Memory Lane trees, to be dedicated to the memory of deceased World War II servicemen, contributions mounted to $871.00. Clarence DeLisle, commander of the local post, announced that this amount will purchase approximately 174 trees, slightly more than half the number required to complete the project. DeLisle stated that the VFW is extremely pleased with the response made by the public to their solicitations for contributions; and the committee in charge of this memorial program is confident that this plan to preserve the memory of the sacrifices made by the boys of our community will be highly successful, as a result of the sincere cooperation of the Escanaba citizens.

County Manager Plan Requires Referendum

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Sleek, streamlined county manager form of government cannot become a reality in Michigan until the people vote an amendment to the constitution to rid themselves of the present top-heavy form of local government.

That is the 'tongue-in-the-cheek" report from City Commissioner Theodore S. Cafey, who has made a study of this form of government during the past several months.

A study of manager government was requested last fall by R. R. Reinhart, then chairman of the board, and he appointed Caffey, Leo Donnelly, Wesley McCondra, Clare Farwell and Roy Guest to make thes urvey.

Caffey, who made his report late last week to the board, said that he and his committee had written to several of the 14 counties in the 3,050 counties in the United States who have adopted the manager form of government.

Some Steps Taken

Michigan, because of its constitutional setup has no managers in any of its 83 counties, but some steps in that direction have been made, Caffey reported.

Setting up a manager form of government is quite complicated.

In order to set the legislative machinery for establishing the manager form of government in Michigan, the legislature would first have to adopt a bill asking for a referendum and setting up the type of government desired. Should this pass, no county could set up the decreed type of manager government until the voters of that particular county have so decided.

The general setup in the manager type of government is as follows:

Five or more county commissioners would be chosen at large, with the commission electing its own chairman. Terms of office are usually staggered.

This system perhaps would not prove popular, especially in Chippewa, reports Caffey, as the township system is fairly well established here and the township residents have considerable community pride and spirit and would want their own man to represent them.

Should there be five commissioners, it would mean only one from every three townships in the county as the board now has 16 township supervisors.

Under the generally accepted county manager form of government, the commissianers appoint the manager, who appoints his own officers with the exception of the sheriff, prosecutor and assessor, who are elected.

Found Beneficial

Caffey pointed out that the manager form of government has been found to be beneficial as it provides the county with one administrative head, responsible to the commission. It also separates the executive division from the administrative.

The executive officers, he said, are policy makers while the administrative officers are appointed and chosen for their qualifications.

Under the present setup, said Caffey, each elective officer is his own executive, and the only way the county board has any direct control is through its handling of appropriations.

Caffey believes it's a long way off before Michigan can provide county manager form of government.

However, in 1947 the Michigan Institute of Local Government, an association of county officers introduced a bill to the legislature providing for a chief executive of the county, a public works commission of three members and election of county officers for four years instead of two-year terms. Boards of supervisors would remain as they are. The executive would have little power other than to attempt to co-ordinate county activities.

The bill, incidentally, still remains to be passed.

The northern part of Times Square in New York was once known as Longacre square after the street in London.

In the symbolism of heraldry, gules—red—is the color of courage and zeal.

Fishing Contest

THE Escanaba Daily Press has announced its 12th annual Upper Peninsula fishing contest, open to all fishermen young and old, resident and non-resident, who catch any species of game or pan fish in any waters of the Upper Peninsula. There is no limit to the number of entries that any individual may make in the contest and no entry fees. There are, infact, only two rules—the fish must be caught in Upper Peninsula waters and it must be caught legally.

The Escanaba Press has been sponsoring this contest annually for a dozen consecutive years because experience has shown that competition spurs interest and attracts attention to the wonderful fishing in the Upper Peninsula.

The pride of a fisherman in bringing home a record fish of any species is universal. The Press contest provides a medium for publicizing such an achievement and rewarding the winning fisherman with an attractive trophy in each of 14 divisions.

At present the season is open only on smelt, perch and rainbow trout. The brook trout and brown trout season opens Saturday, April 24; the walleye season May 21, and the bass season June 25.

Atomic Blessings

ANNOUNCEMENT of recent tests at Eniwetok of a new and still unrevealed atomic weapon focusses public interest on the horror side of atomic developments, the use of this tremendous force for the purpose of destruction. Atomic research, however, has also brought forth potentially great usage of atomic power for the benefit of mankind.

Radioactive isotopes, a by-product of atomic fission, are being used extensively in many fields of scientific research, helping to unlock the secrets of scientific and medical mysteries.

Chairman David Lilienthal of the atomic energy commission Wednesday reported that cobalt may become an inexpensive substitute for radium in the treatment of cancer as the result of knowledge already acquired at the Oak Ridge atomic plant.

There are only about 26 ounces of radium in this entire country and all of it is being used in the battle against cancer with effective results.

Cobalt, a very common metal, can be fashioned into rods or tubes and energized for radioactivity at the atomic plant to be used in exactly the same way that radium is now being used to treat cancer patients.

The importance of this discovery is readily apparent, if clinical tests confirm the optimistic hopes of scientists. It will mean that thousands of cancer patients now doomed because adequate and inexpensive treatment is not available for them may be cured with rediocative cobalt.

"About Face," Communist Style

THE Communist defeat in the recent Italian election has caused the Italian Reds to change their tactics. The leader of the Italian Communist party has announced that he will ask the World Federation of Trade Unions, a Communist-directed organization, to let each country decide its position on the Marshall plan independent of Russia. It is another case of following the time-honored adage, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

If there ever was any doubt that the Communistic followers of non-Russian countries are bound to take their orders from Moscow, the frank expression of Giuseppe di Vittorio, Italian Communist leader, should quickly dispel it. Di Vittorio claims now that it is to the interests of the Italian people to cooperate with the European Recovery Program, but the Communists in Russia have instructed their followers throughout Europe to fight it and sabotage it wherever possible.

The Italian people by their votes last weekend showed wholehearted approval of the Italian participation in the Marshall plan. Until the votes were counted the Communists on instructions from the Kremlin pleaded with the Italian people to reject American aid and turn towards Moscow for assistance. Apparently even the Communists concede now that aid from Moscow would be skimpy and offered only at a price—the price of freedom.

The sudden about - face of the Italian Communist leader, however, should be accepted with considerable skepticism. There is no reason to believe that the Communists are sincere in their newly expressed opinions. They simply cannot be trusted.

A Steel Rail

SOME of the most commonplace articles represent an incredible amount of research, work and development. One of them, believe it or not, is the steel rail that constitutes the 398,000 miles of railroad track that binds the continent together and carries 1,000,000,000 passengers and 2,500,000,000 tons of freight each year. Steelways, a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, recently told its story.

The first rails were wood, but these were soon abandoned in favor of iron. Design was a difficult problem, and scores of different shapes were made and tried. A great many years went by before the present "high-T" became standard for all roads.

The worst problem was the growing weight of trains. Broken, warped and defective rails caused incessant delays and interruptions of service. That was solved in 1856, when the Bessemer process revolutionized steelmaking and opened the door to mass production.

But the long road to near-perfection in rail making still lay ahead. Little by little the steel industry, working with the railroads, evolved better ways to roll the metal, and to secure greater uniformity and strength. New alloys were blended and tested. One discovery made it possible to increase the strength of rail by 66 per cent while adding only 23 per cent to the weight. Ingenious testing devices were developed.

The result is the modern steel rail. In the last decade, rail failures per 1,000 miles of trackage, after two years' service, have dropped from 12.7 to 3.6 per cent. And, where the primitive rail of 1863 cost $250 per ton, the fine rail of the present costs less than $50. The rail which carries—literally!—the commerce of this nation is another example of American industrial genius.

Other Editorial Comments

MIGRATING INDUSTRY
(The Wall Street Journal)

It is not a new thing in American history that manufacturing industries grow in the "hinterland" of the west and south. This migration began even before Horace Greeley said, "Go west, young man." It has been interrupted and then accelerated by the two world wars; it appears now to be going on at a faster pace than ever before, as a nationwide survey published in yesterday's edition of this newspaper indicates.

During and since World War II many leading corporation executives have flatly--though usually privately—declared that they don't want any more "big" plants. Others have said that their further expansion programs would avoid localities in which manufacturing and processing operations were already concentrated. Industries differ in their freedom to follow the rule of decentralization, but the urge to go afield is widespread.

Probably two main factors account for the fact that industry is more and more invading the back country. One is that the automotive vehicle and the airplane have radically altered the matter of adequate transportation. The other is that industrial managers have found that the men and women of the smaller places can be rather easily and rapidly trained to the required skills, whereas they used to think that a new or expanding industry must go where a supply of skilled labor already existed.

We have no doubt that the westward and southward trend of industry is good for the country as a whole, whatever incidental disadvantages it may bring to certain of its older parts. Urban congestion can become an evil thing.

POLITICAL DILEMMA
(Christian Science Monitor)

As things are going, Congress may have some hard decisions to make in a few months embracing both military and foreign policies.

The United States maintains occupation forces in Germany, Austria, Japan, and Korea. They are there both because of commitments to its allies and because of the necessities of a world in which there is a cessation of war but an absence of peace. Few informed persons believe the Army has enough officers and men on hand to do even a minimum job.

Now there promises to be even less. Enlistments, says the Army, are running behind the need for replacements by 10,000 a month. The time is not far off when either more men must be obtained, somehow, or the task cut to fit the Army's size.

This situation bears only remotely on the issue of Universal Military Training, and should not be confused with it. It involves, on the contrary, an immediate need for men available to go overseas, and an international scene less stable than it appeared two years ago—a combination most uncomfortable for both political parties in an election year. But it may have to be faced just the same.

THE TELEPHONE CODE WORDS

Recently I listed the "standard" code words used by telephone and telegraph operators in spelling words, names, and initials over the telephone.

These are the words furnished me by the Western Union.

A, Adam; B, Boston; C, Chicago; D, Denver; E, Edward; F, Frank; G, George; H, Henry; I, Ida; J, John; K, king; L, Lincoln; M, Mary; N, New York; O, ocean; P, Peter; Q, queen; R, Robert; S, sugar; T, Thomas; U, union; V, victor; W, William; X, X-ray; Y, Young; Z, zero.

A number of readers, some of whom are employed by telephone or telegraph companies, have written to me from various parts of the country. They state that the list published by me is incorrect. "Here," they write, "are the only official code words"

But the various lists are not at all alike! Washington differs from Chicago; Chicago differs from Houston; Houston differs from Columbus, and so on.

Thus we see that there isn't any one list of code words that is "official" throughout the country. There isn't room here to show all the lists separately. But the following tabulation will show how greatly the various lists differ:

A for Adam, apple, Anna, able.
B for Boston, boy, baker.
C for Chicago, Charles, Charlie.
D for Denver, David, dog.
E for Edward, easy
F for Frank, fox.
G for George.
H for Henry, how, Harry.
I for Ida, item.
J for John, jig
K for king, Kate, Kenneth.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The inquiry into the Central Intelligence Agency has thus far marked out only one small area of fact. As early as last January, reports were prepared by the agency telling of internal conflict in Colombia and the presence of Communist operators. So the red light was flashed well in advance.

Childs

Rear Admiral R. H. Hillenkoetter, head of CIA, took the unusual step of making public secret intelligence reports in order to establish this point. How much it means is something else again.

The truth is that intelligence reports, no matter how detailed and complete, are of little value if they are not properly analyzed and interpreted by top authority, with top decisions based on the ablest interpretation of what is taking shape. Obviously President Truman, judging from his offhand press - conference remarks, knew nothing of the CIA reports on Colombia.

COORDINATION NEEDED

What this comes down to, as has been said in this space before, is coordination and an end to internal rivalries and suspicions in this all-important field. The lack of real coordination is a matter for serious concern. Here are two examples.

A foreigner who desires to visit America must apply for a visa at an American consulate in the country in which he lives. A visa may be refused for security reasons. Thus a consulate would refuse a visa to a known Communist organizer.

But the names of doubtful applicants are never, or only rarely, referred to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, responsible under law for this country's internal security. Nor is there any evidence that immigration officials, who take over at the port of entry under the department of justice, are consulted in advance about doubtful applicants.

Clearly this is inefficient. It must inevitably leave loopholes through which agents may enter the country. But also it works on occasion to make America look ridiculous.

Thus Madame Irene Joliot-Curie, the French physicist whose husband, Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie, is a member of the French Communist party, was given a visa to visit the United States. When she landed in this country, she was held my immigration officials at Ellis Island for 24 hours before being finally admitted.

The result was sensational headlines. And Madame Joliot-Curie and her friends in this country, including Albert Einnstein, felt she had been insulted. If this famous scientist's political beliefs should have barred her from the U. S., which I do not believe to be the case, then she should have been denied a visa at the outset.

RUSSIANS' VISIT RECALLED

Example No. 2 involves a more far-reaching issue. Nearly two years ago, before our relations with Soviet Union had deteriorated to their present low point, the state department approved a request from Moscow for a group of Soviet engineers to tour the United States.

Their announced objective was to study the water systems of U. S. cities so they could return to help direct the construction of modern systems in Russia. One of the agencies concerned with national security protested strongly against permitting the visit.

This protest was ruled out. The Russian engineers inspected the complicated engineering works by which pure water is brought great distances to such cities as New York and Los Angeles. They returned home with drawings and blueprints of what they had seen.

With sabotage an accepted technique of world Communism, this episode requires no interpretation. The existence of vast cities, dependent on complicated and costly mechanisms for the essentials of life, is one of the chief reasons this country is so vulnerable to direct and indirect attack.

Here plainly was an issue to be resolved by top authority capable of appraising all the factors—both the concern of agencies responsible for security and the problem of building a constructive foreign policy. It means a degree of political understanding—using the word political in its broadest sense—very rare in Washington.

Even more important, it means the creation, in Congress and the country, of a confidence that decisions are being taken in the over all interests of American security. Naturally this will involve great risks in a time such as we are living through. Even in a police state, such as Russia is today, absolute security is a phantom that destroys while it deceives.

Most Mysterious, What?

Good Evening
By Clint Dunathan

ON BEING BALD—Science has come forward to take the part of the bald man. Being bald, of course, has meant that he hasn't had a part anyway for many years. It's nice of the scientists, however, to eulogize the man who has lost his hair. The eulogy may not mean much because most scientists are bald themselves, with the exception of Einstein who has let his hair get completely out of control.

Dunathan

Scientists say the bald man is vital, virile and valuable, with a noggin bare but brainy. They call him "the man of the future," which is understandable—there is nothing for him in the present except nasty cracks about his bald pate and consoling words from scientists who are more interested in molecules than follicles. For our money, the man with the cropless crown is a man with a past. His most treasured memory was of that day when the barber had something to lift up and trim, rather than slick down and stretch.

• • •

THE BIG FAILURE—While the scientific maunderings may be complimentary to the bald man, they reveal again that science has suffered defeat.

For centuries men have been dousing their heads, twisting and pulling their scalps, and subjecting their cranium covers to all sorts of treatments in the Battle of the Bald. All without success. Science has been of no practical assistance. Now in utter defeat it consoles the bald man by assuring him that his bald pate will be popular 100 years in the future—if he can keep wearing it that long.

• • •

COVERING UP — The only sure-cure for baldness is a wig.

Just how long men have been wearing spurious foliage on their noggins is not known, although it dates back to the dawn of civilization. Bald men of influence in a country were able to make wig-wearing fashionable, and in England today the traditional big-wigs and little-wigs are worn by judges and lesser members in England's courts, as they have been worn for centuries.

These wigs are considered a part of the court costume, and they are also worn by high officials in Great Britain's government. An effort at government economy once threatened the wig-wearing custom, and England's wig- making industry, shocked to the depths of its pocketbook, appealed to the king. The king—George III—held out for the wig-makers. Thereupon the English craftsmen who made artificial legs called upon the king to order his servants to wear wooden legs!

This touch of humor, like all those that point a finger of ridicule at a bald head, left King George unsmiling.

• • •

WORK OF ART— There are part wigs and full wigs being worn in America today, and many of them are indeed works of art. They are expensive, however, and Joe Doakes in Punkincenter can think of beter ways to spend his money.

Most of the wig-wearers in the United States are men in the public eye, mostly the stage and screen variety. Many aging male screen stars keep their hairline and a youthful appearance with the aid of wigs, but Bing Crosby refuses to wear his off-stage. That is why candid camera shots of Bing show him with his hat on. It's probably a matter of professional pride, rather than vanity.

• • •

TIPPED TOUPEE—Men who wear wigs anywhere and everywhere do so to keep their heads warm, not to improve their appearance, so far as we can determine. For the toupee-wearers we have observed are deceiving no on but themselves.

One man in particular wears his wig with all of the equanimity of a Scotsman slapping a tam-o-shanter on his head. Sometimes the toupee is on the back, sometimes tipped over either ear. This genial gentleman once appeared at a dinner party with the wig on cross-wise—the part running from ear to ear! That no one commented indicated they were accustomed to his tipped toupee.

Another man we once knew took a half-hour each morning to adjust his toupee, and spent the rest of the day patting it and looking into mirrors to see whether it had broke loose from its mooring. If he had ever discovered it out of alignment he would probably have been greatly embarrassed.

• • •

HEIGHT OF FASHION — Through the ages men have worn their hair in a variety of fashions. It has been cut, curled, braided, plastered with mud, kept clean shaved in various designs, and even powdered white and tied with a ribbon. The hair has always been considered ornamental, and the absence of hair a lack of ornamentation.

When and if science can make bald pates popular, a sizeable minority of men will be in the height of fashion. Meanwhile, they are definitely out of step in the fashion parade and there is little they can do to cover up their deficiency.

Roving Reporter
By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—The poet said a thing of beauty is a joy forever.

Sometimes it is a pain forever, too.

But beauty, whether it hurts or helps, is a daily adventure — in a big city.

Hal Boyle

The features of a rural landscape you learn quickly. To learn a city may take your lifetime. And after a lifetime all many people have to remember is a few street addresses — numbers that cloak the anonymity of a million similar experiences.

You say to yourself:

"Something happened to me here I never can forget."

And maybe the same thing happened to the older man you brushed by as you say it.

There are, in this many-millioned city, always people walking backwards trying to recapture something that is lost. The things people lose here most are dreams they never quite caught up to. The saddest ones are those who've lost the power to dream.

There are two times in the day when New York City is most beautiful. That sentence isn't grammar—but it's truth.

Those times are early morning and just at dusk.

At dusk in this town of endless errands everyone is going forward to a hope. Whether he gets it or not is for the moment unimportant. He is on the way.

Behind him is the job his life's in hock to. Ahead is the adventure of evening. A thousand skyscraper windows hold an electric beacon of promise. At 5:30 p. m. there is no such thing as failure. The long day a man has dedicated to bread is done—and the night is his own.

It may wear down to an ebony defeat—and probably will—but no man is sure when dusk comes down it will turn into his night. There is always the chance of candles and romance.

Dawn is for those who missed something the night before. The city is new in the morning and the slate of life is wiped clean.

The towers shoulder a mist. They stand for all the things you believe in and never quite achieve. They are stone forest of peace—the peace all men seek.

Sometime, somewhere, you will be away from this city and remember it. You will remember it at dusk, and remember it at dawn.

There is no other place in the world like it. And, if you are lucky, you will remember it for something that happened to you in it and left you with a pang you never can outgrow.

If you don't remember it that way—then you never knew New York.

So They Say

By inclination I am opposed to government controls, except in wartime. However, we have no peace today. . . You cannot save free enterprise if you let the system which protects it go to ruin. The time has come to organize—to mobilize—for peace.
—Bernard M. Baruch.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—A damaging piece of paper has just been found in Germany. It is a memo, written during the war, asking authorization to erect a new crematorium big enough to burn 40 bodies daily at the Auschwitz slave-labor camp run by I. G. Farben.

Pearson

This evidence is expected to clinch the guilt of I. G. Farben directors for their war guilt in helping to kill thousands of laborers drafted by Hitler from occupied Europe.

But just as this evidence was uncovered, a strange thing happened in Nuremburg. Gen. Telford Taylor, hardworking war-crimes prosecutor, got instructions to come home. Taylor, at first, demurred, but Washington insisted. Just out of the hospital after an airplane accident, Taylor obeyed orders and is now back in the U. S. A.

Simultaneously, certain highly placed defense chiefs have started a quiet drive to save both the factories and the personnel of I. G. Farben, the Krupps and other big Nazi munitions-makers.

This is probably the most significant development in Germany today.

GEN. CLAY OVERRULED

The shift in policy, it's important to note, comes direct from Washington. Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. commander in Germany, has had nothing to do with it. In fact, he refused to sign one directive ordering the big munitions cartels exempt from decartelization.

After the war, it was unanimous Allied policy (1) That the big munitions plants should be broken up, (2) That Nazi munitions masters be punished for war guilt. This was not the Morgenthau plan, but was agreed on by such men as Eisenhower, Secretary of War Stimson and his successor, Secretary of War Patterson. They disagreed with Morgenthau that Germany should become an agricultural state, but they were emphatic that the big war plants be broken up, also that munitions-makers guilty of plotting war be punished.

For instance, in 1932, it was the Krupps, the Thyssens, and the Ruhr industrialists who gave Hitler the money to take over Germany.

WALL STREET AND GERMANY

Incidentally, it was also the Wall Street firm of Dillon, Read and Company, of which James V. Forrestal was head, that loaned a lot of money to these same munitions-makers.

Today, Forrestal is secretary of national defense, William H. Draper, former vice president of Dillon, Read, is undersecretary of the Army, while Paul Nitze, another vice president of Dillon, Read, holds a key economic job in the state department.

Finally, Phillip Hawkins, son-in-law of Dillon, Read partner Draper, is chief of the property division of the American military government in Germany and is the man who wrote the new memo decreeing a change in policy toward I. G. Farben and the Nazi cartels. This was the memo which General Clay refused to sign.

One year ago, when he was a brigadier general serving under Clay in Germany, Draper gave a talk to visiting American business executives criticizing U. S. policy of breaking up Nazi cartels. On learning of this talk, Clay reprimanded Draper.

Today, Draper is no longer subordinate to General Clay. He is now undersecretary of the Army working directly under his old Wall Street partner, Forrestal, where he, himself, can set policy. Furthermore, Draper's son-in-law, Phil Hawkins, is in Germany in charge of carrying out economic policy toward the Nazi munitions-makers which Dillon, Read once helped finance.

The Forrestal-Draper group argue that war plants in Germany are needed to prepare for possible war with Russia. But General Clay and Chief of Staff Omar Bradley warn that if Russia attacks she will take all of Germany in a few days. Thus Nazi war plants, rebuilt with U. S. help, would then become the priceless property of the Red army.

WAR NOTES

Russia is reported to be producing better war tanks than the United States. . . Large American air bases are being built located for flights across the Arctic. They have underground hangars and the longest runways in the world. . . Believe it or not, but the armed services still have scarcely begun stockpiling strategic war materials. A total of $275,000,000 has been set aside for this, but little has been done. Some congressmen are beginning to ask Secretary Forrestal whether he plans to draft men, but not mobilize the factories and materials to supply them arms. . . National defense officials have decided to give top priority to the construction of 14 underground factories covering essential industries. These factories, all large in size, would be used to continue basic arms production in case American industry was atom-bombed. . . Ken Galbraith, one of the top New Deal economists, has been retained by Secretary Forrestal as a special consultant to work on the mobilization program. . . Secretary of Defense Forrestal's aides have already begun drafting a $16,000,000,000 further expansion of the national defense budget. It will include (1) Reopening of all major Army bases, (2) Building of additional aircraft and arms plants, and (3) Taking about half the fleet out of moth balls.

FROM THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH

Date of the big 3 conference between Marshall, Bevin and Bidault is being delayed until President Truman decides to ask for a new lend-lease act. The big 3 want this conference to end with concrete guarantees to small nations that they will have arms from the U. S. A. to resist Russia. . Last week the state department received new arms appeals from Belgium, France, Italy, Norway, Denmark, Luxbourg and The Netherlands.

Henry Fonda Just Has To Relive His Past In Navy Play

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—I may safely say, without crowding into the field of dramatic criticism, that I wasn't even a little bit surprised when Henry Fonda turned out to be such a wow in a hit navy play called "Mister Roberts." I should have considered Mr. Fonda a pretty dull lad if he hadn't been good at it, because he was one of the few actors who ever had three years of enforced rehearsal.

Henry was getting into some navy khakis the other night, and they looked awful authentic. They were bleached and stained and the 10-pound hat was beat and tarnished.

"Same ones I had in Saipan," said Mr. Fonda. "No change, no change. Sometimes I don't know whether I'm still in the navy or not. And the way it looks now, nobody'd be surprised if we had to march off the stage and back to duty. At least I'm dressed for it."

The last time I saw Henry he had a hangover. This is not a singular thing, except in this case Henry had the only hangover to be had at the time. It made Mr. Fonda a very unusual man—one to be envied and regarded with awe.

Was Aboard U. S. S. Curtis

The locale of Henry's hangover was the U. S. S. Curtis, a big old bloated tub of a seaplane tender, which served as floating headquarters for Admiral Genial John Hoover, the forward area commander. She was anchored in the bay off Saipan, an island which was noted, in 1944, for its severe shortage of cocktail bars.

It was the day after Christmas, '44. There had been a big, fine bombing raid the night before. The Japs, heartened by the bright full moon, had come over from Iwo to help us celebrate, and had conducted their customary spirited, if aimless raid. They destroyed a paintshop on Tinian, in the belief that it was a B-29 hangar, and dropped most of their stuff in the water. The night fighters shot their ears off. It was very festive, and real noisy.

Mr. Fonda was ACI (Air Combat Intelligence officer) for the Curtis. His hangover was beautiful to behold. Lieutenant Fonda was listless as he faced me across the mess table at lunch. He looked at his spam, and looked away again, quickly. He was a little green around the gills, and he drank eagerly from glasses of water. His eyes were tastefully trimmed in cerise. The Japs could come, and the Japs could go, but Mr. Fonda had his hangover to take his mind off the war.

It has been charged, as "Mister Roberts" continues to unfurl its tale of a lowly junior-grade lieutenant's running battle against a skipper, that Mr. Fonda was letter-perfect in the part before he ever read the script; That all he had to do was re-live his past.

Congressman Paul Cunningham, chairman of the House sub-committee on roads, and principal speaker, said: "Many residents of the state have cast a jaundiced eye at the work of the highway study committee of the Good Roads Federation.

"A prophet is not without honor except in his own country. Michigan should be proud of the work of the Michigan Good Roads Federation and its report. I have heard nothing but praise for the work from every state in the union. Do not underestimate what you have accomplished."

Former Escanaban, E. William Nelson, Is Banking Leader

E. William Nelson, a former resident of Escanaba, and son of Mrs. Bengta Nelson, 411 South 10th street, is Michigan's 16th banking commissioner. As such he supervises 346 State banks with 133 branch offices; 8 trust companies; 224 small loan offices and 151 credit unions.

Recently a group of Detroit business interests applied to Commissioner Nelson for a charter for a new State bank in Detroit. Nelson determined that additional banking in Detroit was not a necessity.

Supervision and examination of banks under his supervision is notedly divorced from political influence. Commissioner Nelson, according to the Michigan Tradesman, which carries a full cover picture of the former State Bank of Escanaba employee, replied:

"You are advised that after due date and detail consideration of your application, it is my conclusion that there is no present existing necessity for the establishment and organization of an additional bank in the City of Detroit, nor am I convinced of the likelihood of its successful operation if established."

The Detroit interests appealed to Governor Kim Sigler who replied: "Commissioner's Nelson's opinion is final; under this administration no political influence will be allowed to interfere with the operations of the State Banking department."

Nelson attended Gustavus Adolphus college in Minnesota after attending Escanaba high school. For 15 years he worked here in the State Bank and then moved with his family to Ann Arbor. There he received education in business administration from 1920 to 1924, in the University of Michigan. He started at the bottom in the banking department, as a bank examiner. He is the first man to work his way up through the ranks and was appointed by Governor Sigler.

While in Escanaba, Nelson formed friendships with Henry Peterson, Henry Anderson and Taylor Peterson. All are now bankers. Henry Peterson works at the First National bank; Henry Anderson is in a Marinette bank and Taylor Peterson is in banking in California.

In addition to his mother, Nelson has a sister, Mrs. Anna Harrod, at 411 South 10th street; a brother, A. A. Nelson, at 1001 Lake Shore drive, in Escanaba; and a brother, Elmer, in Cornell.

COPPER RANGE FINDS NEW ORE

Low Grade Deposits At White Pine

Painesdale, Mich.—Exploration and development work at the White Pine property of Copper Range Co. was carried on through July, 1947, when exploration work was discontinued. A large, low-grade, copper-bearing ore body has been indicated.

Morris F. LaCroix, president, in his report covering 1947 operations, said that the White Pine ore body undoubtedly contains a large tonnage of copper. It is of such size as to make it one of the great potential sources of copper in this country, he said.

The report revealed that since 1937 a total of 139 diamond drill holes had been put down on the property. While final calculations of ore reserves have not been completed, preliminary estimates reviewed by Ira B. Joralemon, mining engineer, indicate the following tonnages and copper content: 94.2 million tons of developed ore averaging 21.4 pounds of copper a ton. Of this, 44,720,000 tons, averaging 26 per cent copper, are parting shale. In addition, there were estimated to be 105,410,000 tons of probable ore, averaging 23 percent copper content. Of this latter total, 62,000,000 tons averaging 25.1 percent were said to be parting shale. It was estimated further that the ore body contains an average of 0.20 ounces of silver a ton of ore.

The over-all results of laboratory tests and studies indicate that at least 86 percent of the copper can be recovered to produce a 16 percent copper concentrate, Mr. Laoix said. He added that the ore body must be mined by underground methods. Since it is indicated to be a substantial ore body, its development will require a large sum of money.

Meanwhile, it was stated that the company is continuing investigation and research toward the betterment and simplification of metallurgical process and to determine the most economical method of treating the concentrates.

CHURCH GROUPS MET IN CITY

Presbyterial Society Has Successful Meet

The Lake Superior Presbyterial Society for Missions and Christian Education concluded its twenty-ninth annual meeting at the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian, Wednesday afternoon.

The principal speakers for this conference were Miss Jane Moody office assistant at Menual School, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Mrs. C. H. Newcomer, of Grand Rapids, synodical president.

In her address on Tuesday, Miss Moody stressed the need of schools and hospitals in the mission fields, because the minds of the people the church tries to reach are crowded with superstition and ignorance and they are not ready for the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It is only by kind deeds and medical care that these people are brought to Christ, she said.

Miss Moody said that there are many mothers who want the very best for their children and church schools and hospitals are supplying that need. At the Tuesday evening meeting, Miss Moody illustrated her address with slides showing pictures of Menual school, and the surrounding mountains and plazas.

In Mrs. Newcomer's address, the new high school at Ganado Mission, Arizona, was stressed and the Lake Superior Presbyterial voted to join with the other 18,567 Michigan women to have the new Ganado Mission buildings as an additional project for the coming year.

Special music for the Presbyterial meeting consisted of violin selections by the Rev. Paul Sobel, a vocal solo by Mrs. George Morton, violin duet by Carl Olson and Norman Martin, assisted by Mrs. James Fyvie at the piano, anthem by the Presbyterian Quintette, Mrs. Inez Morton, Mrs. L. E. Taylor, Mrs. M. Carlson, H. Peterson and H. Graff and Mrs. A. F. Hall, organist.

Memorial Service Wednesday

The memorial service on Wednesday afternoon, was in charge of Mrs. A. L. Lavigne, and as the names of the departed members were read Mrs. N. Raredon placed a white flower in the vase for each one to represent a floral tribute. At this service Mrs. George Morton and H. K. Peterson sang, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled."

The theme for this conference was taken from II Corinthians 8:7. "Excell in this gracious work.' It was carried out throughout the program.

Inland Plant Operating At Peak Employment

Employees of the Inland Lime and Stone company will receive their first regular pay checks of the year on Friday, April 23. According to A. W. Heitman, general superintendent, all but a few of the regular employees returned to work following the three month work stoppage and more than thirty additional men have been hired, placing the plant employment level at an all time high.

He also stated that in order to relieve any financial distress as quickly as possible following the return to work, the company had made immediate cash available in the form of retroactive vacation pay and advances on wages earned. Approximately 200 men applied for these payments, and about $15,000.00 was distributed to them within the first week of operations.

The plant was readied for production in record time and the first cars of stone were dumped into the crusher on April 19. The first cargo, carried by the Steamer Lagonda left Port Inland April 11 for the Bethlehem Steel Corporation plant at Lackawanna, New York, and to date eight cargoes have been loaded for lower lake ports.

Garden Plot Does Duty For Family For Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swanson, 429 Alger avenue, who last November observed their golden wedding anniversary, enjoy a rather unique distinction. They have maintained a garden on the same spot for the past fifty years.

The garden is located on an extra lot which Mr. Swanson purchased when he bought the home fifty years ago. The home garden was a serious proposition in those days because green goods in a grocery store were not to be had. Then, in the next couple of decades, when the Swanson family grew, that garden spot helped like everything to make the monthly pay check stretch and make both ends meet. But now, with but Mr. and Mrs. Swanson at home to enjoy it, the old garden spot has again become a place of pleasant diversion and a source of pride.

Not a single year passed without the garden doing full service and it is now far more fertile and productive than it was when it first was used. It now is given over, to some extent to the raising of flowers which may be found in profusion all about the Swanson premises.

In summer the home is one of the show places in that part of the city.

NEW SAWMILL—William Vietzke of Rapid River started operations last week at his new sawmill, situated along highway US-2 near the Soo Line viaduct on the Whitefish hill. The mill, powered with a semi-diesel engine, cuts about 1,000 feet of lumber per hour. Logs are trucked in from the surrounding area.

Conduct Nursery For Little Tots

Next Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday physical examination of kindergarten and first graders is being made available in the public schools.

It is necessary that a parent or guardian accompany the child during the examination. It has been found that in many instances there are children of pre-school age in these homes which the mother or guardian would be unable to leave.

To alleviate this condition, a nursery for the younger children is being set up in the Home Economics room at the junior high school and mothers may bring the younger children there and leave them in competent hands during the time needed for the examination.

Examinations will be made by Dr. William Harrison of the Delta-Menominee county health unit.

With Hutchinson Up, Detroit At Home Today Against Tribe; Expect Record Opening Crowd

Detroit, April 23 (AP) — Undefeated in three collisions with the White Sox in Chicago and perched alongside the Philadelphia Athletics atop American league standings, the Detroit Tigers came home to open the Briggs stadium baseball wars for 1948 today against the Cleveland Indians.

Everything was in readiness for an anticipated mound duel between Freddie Hutchinson, the Tigers' top winner of last season with 18 victories, and Cleveland's young righthander, Bob Lemon.

Mayor Eugene Van Antwerp was warmed up to uncork the season's first pitch and ex-Tiger Charlie Gehringer poised to receive it. Finzel's band, a fixture almost as old as big league baseball itself in Detroit, tuned up for pre-game ceremonies at the flagpole. Concessionaires were prepared to dish out 45,000 hot dogs and 20,000 bags of peanuts.

And the weatherman promised 70-degree temperature, warm enough to bring predictions of a crowd of 55,000 fans, big enough to crack all Detroit records for opening day.

Fan Interest High

Baseball was back in Detroit and fan interest, keyed to the Tigers' sweep of their first three games in Chicago, rode high.

On the shoulders of Hutchinson, only American league pitcher who beat Cleveland four times in 1947, rested the Tigers' hopes of keeping the string alive.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks squeezed out a 3 to 2 decision to cap the series sweep at Chicago, his Bengal mates coming through again with a late-inning surge to win although outhit.

Trucks, returning to his impressive form of the Florida exhibition season, fanned seven men to win with an eight-hit performance. Detroit collected only six blows off the combined offerings of Howie Judson and Ike Pearson.

But it was an exchange of big innings and the Tigers' was bigger.

While Judson, former University of Illinois baseball and basketball star, was pitching hitless ball for five innings, Chicago jumped away to a 2-0 edge in the fourth by bunching four hits, all singles.

The Tigers didn't get going till the sixth, but they made hay then.

Catcher Bob Swift worked Judson for his fourth pass of the game to start the ball rolling. Trucks tried to bunt but popped out. Shortstop Neil Berry doubled to left for the Tigers' first hit, scoring Swift, and Eddie Mayo singled over second to score Berry with the tying run. Hoot Evers then belted a double to left and Mayo raced home with the run that meant the ball game.

On the hop: Only 20,025 fans watched the three games in Chicago, a figure certain to be more than doubled in the year's first game here . . . Yesterday's count of 2,611 fans was two short of Wednesday's 2,613 . . . Aside from the fourth inning, when they scored both their runs, the Sox got three men as far as third base against Trucks but couldn't get them in . . . Half of Detroit's six hits were doubles . . . If Bob Feller's pitching hand is in shape (and reports are that it is), Rapid Robert will oppose Art Houtteman here Saturday, with Hal Newhouser and Al Gettel hooking up Sunday.

Rapid River Plans Memorial Field; To Hold Open Meeting

Rapid River, April 23—Preliminary plans toward development of a new baseball field for the Rapid River city team in the Bay de Noc league this season and toward eventual establishment of a Rapid River Memorial Athletic Field in honor of the community's veterans of World War II were discussed at an enthusiastic meeting of the local Lions' club at Salmar's here last night.

The baseball diamond to replace the old one near the railroad station and the athletic field, it was proposed, will be located on a plot of land of approximately three acres in Cole's addition near the center of Rapid River.

"This site was used as a baseball diamond here as long ago as 1906 and 1907 and continued to be used up until 1926," Harry Buchman, member of the committee in charge, pointed out. "It is an ideal site for reestablishment of a baseball diamond and also for the establishment of a community athletic field as a World War II.

"Under the proposed plan, it is hoped to eventually develop this area for the enjoyment of all residents of Rapid River—tennis courts, shuffleboard courts, softball diamond and perhaps playground equipment for the children."

Although the group elaborated on the long-term development program, the urgency of purchasing the land to expedite development of the Cole's addition plot as a baseball diamond this season was stressed. The township has pledged $1,000 on a matching basis. The Lions club agreed to turn over $270 from its baseball fund, and it agreed further to loan $750 to enable the purchase and development of the new diamond to be made without delay.

Particular emphasis was laid on the need of developing the area as a community project. In view of this, an open community meeting was called for 8 o'clock next Wednesday night in the Rapid River high school gym, at which time the memorial athletic field community project will be explained to all residents.

Jack Miller, Lions club president, named Joe Casimir, chairman; Harry Buchman and William Goodman as members of a committee to get the baseball and athletic field project underway and to make plans for the open meeting next Wednesday night.

RAINBOW LOOP MEETS SUNDAY

Okah Schedule, Name New President

The Michigan Rainbow Baseball league will hold a meeting at Trenary at 2 Sunday afternoon to consider the resignation of Orville Wieland as president and to approve the 1948 schedule.

A letter from Wieland explained his resignation as follows:

"I resign with deep respect for all officers, managers and players who have helped me 100 per cent in the last three years to construct one of the fastest amateur baseball leagues in the Upper Peninsula.

"I have been chosen as treasurer of the U. P. Semi-Pro Baseball league, in which I am entering a team as manager and owner to represent the city of Munising; and as this is a new baseball adventure, I feel I should give all my available time to helping this league."

The league will elect a new president.

A schedule has been prepared for presentation at the Sunday meeting at Trenary. It will be discussed and acted upon by the managers of the present teams: Gladstone, Escanaba, Manistique, Chatham, Trenary, Marquette, Negaunee, Munising, Diorite and Gwinn.

The Rainbow season will open on May 16.

Baseball Stars Of Yesterday

Pitching—Elmer Riddle, Pirates—veteran righthander, obtained on waivers from the Cincinnati Reds, blanked the Cubs with two hits as Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 3-0.

AA Lead at Stake In St. Paul Saint, Indian Tilt Tonight

By the Associated Press

The battle for first place in the American Association baseball race continues at Indianapolis tonight as St. Paul and the Indians, knotted a .750 (6-2) play the second of a two game series.

Indianapolis gained a share in the first place standings last night, defeating the Saints, 5 to 2, after the opening game slated for Wednesday had been postponed. Other league results: Kansas City 9 Toledo 8; Milwaukee 6 Louisville 4, and Columbus 5 Minneapolis 3.

At Toledo, Kansas City rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to squeeze out a second straight one-run victory over the Mud Hens. The Blues opened with a four-run shower in the first, but Toledo came back with six runs, cur on Frank Mancuso's grand slam homer. Dave Madison, the last of four Kansas City pitchers, was credited with the victory.

NEW PIN LEADERS

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 23 (AP) —New team and doubles leaders headed the Michigan Women's State Bowling tournament today. Precision Springs of Detroit rolled a 3,106 total to take the lead from Crescent Floral of Grand Rapids in the squad event. Edith Sazeman and Clara Manquen of Bad Axe combined for a pace setting 1229 total in the doubles.

Hazel Walker, Red Head Ace, To Put On Her Act Saturday

FREE THROW EXPERT — Claimant of the world's free throw championship is Hazel Walker, who has an amazingly high percentage of conversions. She can make free throws standing, sitting or kneeling. It doesn't seem to make any difference. When the All-American Red Heads tangle with the Delta Hardwares in the William Bonifas gym Saturday night, Hazel will be ready to compete with any local free throw expert.

The All-American Red Heads, world's best girls' basketball team, visit Escanaba tomorrow night to play the local Delta Hardwares at the William Bonifas gym at 8 o'clock. The Red Heads played here last season and pleased the fans with a smooth passing attack and uncanny accuracy, even on long shots.

Although it is late in the cage season and interest in this sport is at a low point, a large crowd is expected to be on hand for this unusual attraction. Fans are reminded that this program offers more than basketball. It presents a remarkable group of female stars who compete on equal terms with men in a man's game.

Last year they played the local V. F. W. team and the Vets were loaded with the city's outstanding talent.

The gals were tall enough to control the rebounds, off both boards but there weren't many rebounds when they were on offense. The ball went right in on most of their shots from the floor, and on nearly every free throw.

Speaking of free throws, their Hazel Walker claims the world's championship. Miss Walker will be ready to defend her title here Saturday night if any local aspirant to the crown thinks he can beat her.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Aye-yi-yi! Tomorrow's the day—the opening of trout season. By this time, most housewives will be glad to see their husbands take off for the woods and streams. They've been a nuisance around the house the last few weeks anyway.

They haven't been fooling anybody with this early spading of the garden. Worms! That's what they're after. And look at all angling paraphernalia cluttering up the house just when milady is trying to get some spring cleaning out of the way—rods and reels of old and new vintage, bait boxes, cans, fish creels, testing tensile strength of old and new lines, hip boots, waist boots, chest-high waders, flies, hooks, that old greasy fishing hat he wouldn't part with for a $20 Stetson. Such is home life in Michigan's north country come April 24!

Take it from Jim Rouman, Escanaba's expert fly fisherman who has a kind word for the plunkers, too! Barring a disturbing rainfall, conditions for opening day look pretty favorable. Jim's got a mark on a bridge across the Whitefish river and he keeps an eye peeled on a particular stone in the Escanaba river. The water's down three feet from opening day last sason.

* * *

And that's good! Because last year, streams in these parts were at a near-flood stage. Even the little Bark had all the earmarks of a first class mill pond in some places. So get ready to hie away to the Haymeadow, Bark, 47, Dexter, Escanaba, Whitefish or mouth of the Rock river.

* * *

"Even if opening day is earlier than usual this season, conditions are better than average," Rouman declared.

* * *

Jim has a few opening day tips for eager beavers that we'd like to pass on. He keeps most of his trout fishing equipment in one jacket because it saves time. Now that sounds logical. You slip into it quick like and take off like a b.a.b.

* * *

Fly books with large and small flies for both wet and dry fishing, a bottle of mosquito dope, fingernail clippers for cutting leaders, line dressing, chamois skin for drying flies, finger nail lacquer to keep dry flies drier and a safety pin to use in opening fish hook eyes are handy things to have along. And don't forget the fly rod, waders and the battered old trout campaign hat and look of eager anticipation.

* * *

Jim says the look of anticipation goes on first and the waders go on last, because the waders are hot.

* * *

Rouman says he loves all sorts of trout fishermen, but personally give him fly casting with a split bamboo that goes about six and one-half ounces. He says the thrill of hooking one big baby beats by far a whole creelful of smaller friers.

* * *

"From Boney Falls down, the Escanaba river offers some of the best brown trout fishing in the Midwest," genial Jim remarked. "Another good spot for the fly boys is Soo Rapids for brooks and rainbows."

* * *

He regrets that there is only one state-owned piece of property along the Escanaba river below Boney Falls. That is Burnt Camp. He says there should be four or five more spots for anglers along the Escanaba.

* * *

There are plenty of good spots all right, but try to get some successful angler to tell you where he got that creelful.

Joe Norris Returns To Bowl in the ABC

Detroit, April 23 (AP)—Joe Norris, former tenpin king of Detroit, returns to his old home city today to roll with the Brunswicks of Chicago in the 45th annual American Bowling Congress championship.

Norris, who has won numerous bowling crowns and received $3,400 in war bonds and a $3,500 car from his Detroit fans when he left the motor city a year ago, heads a card of top flight keglers appearing today.

He piloted the Detroit Strohs to a team title in the 1934 ABBC classic.

Also included in today's array of teams is the Rangers aggregation of New York City. With the rolling today opens a steady parade of "name" bowlers expected to knock current leaders out of their positions. Cavolis of Cleveland now leads the team division with a 3002 score.

Jock Leslie Loses Title to Burgess

Flint, Mich., April 23 (AP)—A nimble 21-year-old Detroiter today wore the Michigan featherweight boxing crown that has adorned the features of Jock Leslie these past two years.

The new champion, Luther Burgess, took the title away from Leslie in decisive fashion last night with a fast and sharp boxing demonstration.

After the first two rounds the young Negro puncher had complete command and in the seventh round the sagging Leslie took a count of nine on one knee. Jock protested at this time that he had been fouled, but the protest was overruled.

The 24-year-old Leslie won the title Aug. 16, 1946, when he knocked out Willie Anderson of Detroit. A paid attendance of 3,562 fans saw the upset in Ima auditorium. Burgess weighed 124¼ and Leslie at 126.

The term, Kangaroo Court, was brought to America by Australian "forty-niners" during California's great gold rush.

Railbirds Beginning To See 1-2 Finish For Citation, Coaltown In Kentucky Derby Event May 1

Lexington, Ky., April 23 (AP)—Railbirds are talking of a possible one-two finish for Warren Wright's Citation and Coaltown in the Kentucky derby.

The talk followed in the wake of yesterday's record-smashing performance by Coaltown in the Blue Grass stakes as Keeneland's meeting closed here.

The only question in the minds of Calumet Farm followers now—and in the minds of those who saw Coaltown run yesterday — is which is the better. Trainer Ben Jones refuses to answer that one.

"We'll have to let the derby decide," Jones laughed as he left for Louisville to supervise the unloading this morning of Citation.

Citation, the winter book favorite to win the derby May 1, moved into Churchill Downs from Havre De Grace. Coaltown probably will be vanned to Louisville Saturday.

Unbeaten Coaltown removed all doubt about his ability to go the longer route with his speedy victory yesterday. The Blue Grass stakes, a mile-and-one-eighth test for the derby, was practically over after about 50 yards.

With Jockey N. L. Pierson hustling him out of the gate, Coaltown dashed past Dixiana's little Shy Guy soon after the start. Running smoothly and effortlessly, he won by four-and-one-half lengths over Billings Shy Guy finished third in the six horse race.

A 10-year-old record went into the scrap heap when Coaltown completed his quick trip to the payoff line in 1:49 1/5, shading one-fifth of a second from the record set by Tunica.

Already second choice to Citation in winter book wagering, Coaltown now will move up into almost co-favoritism.

Only one stable has been able to accomplish a one-two finish in derby history. That was the late Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour farm. In 1921 Behave Yourself and Black Servant finished one-two and in 1926 it was Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage.

Veneer Girls Win Elks Club Women's Bowling Tourney

With a 2,323 total, the Birds Eye Veneer bowling team won first place in the annual Escanaba Elks' club women's bowling tournament conducted here, but it had a scare from the second-place L. & L. crew.

L. & L. spilled a 2,312, only eight pins off. It was a tough finish for the runnerups. With pressure mounting, Helen Lewis barely missed a single-pin spare, which, if converted, required only an eight-pin count on the last ball to gain the championship.

Another hard luck exhibition was the Sabuco girls finishing out of the money by a single pin. Only eight teams are eligible for a share of the prize melon. The Sabuco lassies were ninth with 2,129, one pin back of eighth place Neumeier's.

Singles and doubles will be rolled Saturday, Monday and Wednesday.

Here's how the teams finished. Birds Eye Veneer 2320, L. & L. 2312, Sure-Strikes 2163, Needham's 2161, Clairmont's 2157, Curtis's 2151, Wolkenhauer's 2151, Neumeiers 2130, Sabuso's 2129, Ramblers 2096, Bink's 2094, Ten-Pins 2089, King-Pins 2070, Bennett's 2064, Ferguson's 2002, Hengesh's 1994.

Spartan Nine Edges Wisconsin By 6-5; Krestel Goes Limit

East Lansing, April 23 (AP) — Football Quarterback Bob Krestel became the first Spartan pitcher to go nine full innings this season as he worked for a 6-5 win Thursday, the second in two days over Wisconsin.

Krestel was in trouble only in the third inning, when Wisconsin scored three runs. Badger Catcher Red Wilson got on base on a single and was able to get home on a wild throw. Right Fielder Bruce Elliott hit a long home run into left field and chased home another marker ahead of him.

The Spartans picked up a run in the first inning and two more in the third, then staged a three-run splurge in the sixth inning. A wild throw allowed Leftfielder Pat Peppler to extend what should have been a single into a triple while two men scored ahead of him.

Third Baseman Dan Urbanick singled to send Peppler home with the winning run. Harlan Quandt went the distance to be charged with the Wisconsin loss.

Michigan State play Detroit at Detroit Saturday.

Wisconsin	030 000 110—5 9 2
Mich. State	102 003 00x—6 12 3

DERBY FAVORITE—Old timers say no horse ever had a head like Citation's. He is favored in the famed Kentucky Derby May 1.

PHENIX BENARD HEADS CLASSIC

City Bowling Loop Holds Annual Meeting

Phenix Benard was elected president of the Escanaba Classic Bowling league to succeed Harry Needham at the annual dinner-meeting held in the Marine room of the House of Ludington this week.

Other officers elected were Augie Gafner, vice president, and Bill Puckelwartz, secretary.

The keglers partook of a turkey dinner reported to be "lush" and and entertainment was provided by Richard Oslund, magician, and a barber shop quartet composed of Doug Walker, Ed Olson, Lowell Sundstrom and Milt Lindblad.

Carl Sawyer, a director of the American Bowling Congress, gave a talk on new ABC rules.

Johnny Boyle was chairman of the entertainment committee.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Hilda Mattson, who passed away April 23, 1944.

Two loving hands are resting,
The voice we loved is still.
Dear mother who worked so hard for us,
Is waiting on God's beautiful hill.

God gave us strength to face it,
Courage to bear the blow.
What it meant to lose dear mother,
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by
HER HUSBAND,
LOVING CHILDREN, AND GRANDCHILDREN.

HUTTE JURY IS FOR PLAINTIFF

Reports $3,000 Judgment In Suit For $40,000

After nearly seven hours deliberation a circuit court jury at 12:55 a. m. today reported it found for the plaintiff, Gordon Hutte of Brampton, in his personal injury suit against Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Beauchamp, and announced a judgment of $3,000.

Hutte had sought $40,000 for personal injuries allegedly suffered Aug. 14, 1944, while employed by the Beauchamps on their Fairfield Dairy farm near Brampton. Beauchamp does not have liability insurance.

Counsel for Beauchamp said today that a defense motion to have the court establish a judgment notwithstanding the verdict of the jury was being prepared for filing.

Claim Disability

The jury retired at 5 p. m. yesterday after hearing four days of testimony. With time out for supper, the jury deliberated a total of about seven hours before arriving at a verdict.

Judge Thomas A. Landers of Bessemer received the jury report. Judge Landers has presided in the case because Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone is disqualified for the reason that he represented the defendants prior to his elevation to the circuit court bench.

It was the claim of Hutte, who is postmaster at Brampton, that he tripped on a wire on a wagon at the Beauchamp farm and fell to the ground, suffering injuries that required his hospitalization and left him permanently disabled. The defense claimed that Hutte was negligent, and that his fall and resulting injuries were caused by his own negligence.

Hear Other Cases

The jury was composed of Otto F. Manthey, Ovila Savard, E. C. Villeneuve, Lorraine Owen and John E. DeChantel of Escanaba; Jonas Sjogren, Nahma; Mrs. John P. Strand of Gladstone; Bert J. Ray of Cornell; Henning E. Johnson of Ensign; Fred Van Remortel of Fayette; Rufus Spaulding of Garden; and William J. Goodreau of Wells.

Judge Landers is also scheduled to hear two non-jury civil cases. One is the ejection action of Lency J. Clairmont and Harlan J. Yelland vs. Frank and Viola A. Wawirka and Alfred P. Groos.

A hearing to settle the record on an appeal to the supreme court in the case of Gardens of Rest vs. Upper Michigan Power & Light company is also to be heard by Judge Landers. In these cases Judge Jackson is disqualified because he represented some of the parties in private practice before his election to the judgeship.

ACTION REVIVED IN MEAT STRIKE

Government Tries To End 39-Day Tieup

Chicago, April 23 (AP)—The government has made a new attempt to end the 39-day old nationwide meat strike.

Representatives of the striking CIO Packing House Workers and the four major packers have been invited to Washington next week for fresh wage negotiations.

The union has accepted the bid of Cyrus S. Ching, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, to meet with the Packers. The first session was planned with Armour and Co. on Monday.

About 100,000 members of the union struck on March 16 in support of demands for wage hikes of 29 cents. The Packers had offered nine cents.

Swift and company said it would attend the Washington meeting scheduled with union representatives next Wednesday. Armour and the other major packers, Cuday and Wilson and Co. did not comment immediately on the invitation. Ching proposed the union meet with Cuday on Tuesday and with Wilson next Friday.

As the government moved to settle the wage dispute, a group of farm leaders appealed to President Truman "to utilize every device available under present law" to end the walkout.

Waterways Project In St. Mary's River Allotted $2,500,000

Washington, April 23. (AP)—Appropriation of $3,530,000 for flood control and navigation projects on Michigan rivers and lake ports have been approved by the Senate appropriations committee.

The Michigan projects were part of the waterways construction program on which the committee put its okay yesterday.

They include:

Flood control — Mt. Clemens, Clinton River, $284,000.

Rivers and harbors—St. Mary's river, $2,500,000; Keweenaw waterway, $75,000; Manistee harbor, $255,500; Grand Haven harbor and Grand river, $225,000; Grand Traverse Bay harbor, $190,500.

The House previously had approved the projects, but its grant for the St. Mary's river was but $500,000.

If the Senate passes a larger amount, the difference must be adjusted by a conference committee from both Houses.

CZECH TARIFFS CUT; GOP IRKED

House Group Hits Blind Alley On Imports

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, April 23 (AP) — Angry House Republicans found themselves up a blind alley today in their hunt for a way to block administration-granted tariff cuts to Czechoslovakia.

But they said they are determined to prevent any future concessions to other Soviet-dominated governments.

President Truman last night proclaimed new, lower import duties for Czech products in return for tariff reductions already put into effect by Prague.

Rep. Harness (R-Ind), who had tried in vain to have the agreement held up, told newsmen he sees little chance that the chief executive might reverse his action "in view of past performances."

The state department said the main Czech products on which duties were cut are household china, table and kitchen glassware, jewelry, certain types of shoes and gloves and hops.

The American products on which Prague reduced its duties include certain types of office machines, passenger automobiles, canned vegetables, fruits and juices and some dried fruits.

Couple Questioned In Holdup of Bank At Sault, Ontario

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 23. (AP)—Canadian police today questioned a man and woman picked up yesterday near the scene of a noon holdup of the Steelton bank.

Identified as Edward Greschuk and Mrs. Marjorie McLean, they were held for investigation of the holdup that netted from $8,000 to $10,000.

While officers conducted an intensive land-air search in the area north of this Canadian city, Greschuk was arrested during the afternoon in a vacant lot near the bank.

The woman was taken into custody today a short time later. She was in a car on the street where she lived.

The man who staged the robbery entered the Royal Bank of Canada branch carrying a revolver and ordered Teller Ruth Hallan to hand over the money she was counting.

He scooped up the money and backed out of the building. A woman in a waiting automobile drove off with him.

would be stiff but (b) If the strike was over, it would be light —possibly nothing at all.

And it did appear that the strike, which started March 15, was finally over. Only about 50,000 men were still away from the pits by nightfall yesterday. And mine owners and union leaders in the coal fields predicted full production by Monday.

Pension Not Settled

But the miners' pension dispute that caused all the trouble still was far from settled.

That problem is up to a three-man board of trustees. Lewis represents the miners, Ezra Van Horn the mine owners and Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) is the neutral member.

Bridges and Lewis agreed on a plan to pay $100 monthly pensions to miners 62 or older who have retired since May 29, 1946, after having served 20 years in the industry. This was less than Lewis had been asking. He wanted 60 to be the retirement age.

But Van Horn has taken the position some features of the plan violate the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. For one thing, he says the act requires him, as the employer representative, to agree on any plan for spending the $32,000,000 welfare fund.

The money has been accumulating from 10-cent tonnage royalties on coal production. It is supposed to finance sickness, health and death benefits besides pensions.

Van Horn has attacked the Lewis-Bridges plan in court, asking that the UMW boss and the senator be held personally liable for anything spent out of the fund in violation of the Taft-Hartley law.

Apparently because of this suit, Lewis postponed until next Monday a trustee meeting which had been scheduled yesterday to put the Bridges-Lewis plan into effect.

Westinghouse Cuts Prices, Saves Users $3,125,000 a Year

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 23 (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corporation said today it is putting price reductions into effect on certain products to "save customers approximately $3,125,000 a year."

The corporation said the reductions would average five per cent on electrical products used in connection with electric power distribution.

Sophomores Admit Hoisting Red Flag At Michigan State

East Lansing, April 23 (AP)—The mystery of who hoisted the red flag at Michigan State college was solved today.

Two sheepish sophomores went voluntarily to the office of Dean of Students S. E. Crowe and said they raised the Communist banner, complete with star, hammer and sickle as a "joke."

Discovery of the home-made flag, spotted fluttering atop the pole in front of the ROTC headquarters Tuesday, came after President John A. Hannah was called before the State Senate committee to explain reports of Communist activity on the campus.

Hannah said he would not tolerate a Communist on the faculty and said there was only one student who professed to be a Communist at the college.

James A. Boyde of Bridgeman, Mich., and George Fisher of Chicago, Ill., were placed on strict probation and also were ordered to pay for the cost of having the flag removed. Dean Crowe said both students had good records and that he was convinced the flag-raising was a schoolboy prank.

SENATE HOLDS UP ACTION ON SIGLER IDEAS

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a House bill giving the state's general fund liquor license revenues which have been going to the Liquor Control commission.

It voted also to give state retirement fund status to former federal employes of the State Reemployment Service, and to permit prison labor to be used on private farms and lumbering projects in return for shares of the crops.

It passed an act to clarify the collection of the Marine Fuel Tax so that it can be segregated more easily from highway gasoline taxes.

PUBLIC HOUSING PLANS OPPOSED

Senate - Approved Bill Attacked In House

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, April 23 (AP) — House members hoisted storm signals today for a Senate-approved program aimed at building 15,000,000 homes in the next 10 years.

As in the Senate, which passed the multi-billion dollar Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill yesterday, the House controversy centers around the measure's 500,000-unit public housing section.

The House Banking Committee pigeonholed a similar Senate bill two years ago, then, as now, many opponents called the public housing section "socialized housing."

Banking Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) set "full hearings" for May 3 and told a reporter "some sort of housing bill" will pass. He declined to say whether it will make any provisions for public housing, whereby the government would build and operate dwellings for low income families.

But Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R-Ohio), a committee member, told reporters "I am opposed to public housing. I think there is a probability the House will stop this legislation."

RULES

1. The Contest is open to everybody, men, women and children. Contest opens with the legal fishing season and closes on Labor Day. Envelopes containing entries must bear a postmark not later than September 6, 1948, to be eligible.

2. All fish entered in the contest must be caught in public waters of Upper Michigan during the open season in the respective fish class.

3. Contest is limited to fish taken with hook and line. Any legal lure may be used. Lake trout must be caught on a rod or line freely held in the hand and not attached to a boat.

4. All information asked for on the entry blank should be supplied. Failure to give length and girth may disqualify entries. Fish must be weighed on tested scales and measured with a steel tape measure, the length taken from the end of the lower jaw with the mouth closed to the tip of the tail, and the greatest girth of the fish taken. Weight may be given dressed or in the round or both.

5. In the wall-eyed pike and black bass classes a photograph is desirable to be sure of identity of the species.

6. In the event of two or more fish weighing and measuring exactly the same, identical trophies will be awarded. Greatest measurements will decide the winner when weights are approximately equal.

7. Accompany your entry with a photograph of yourself or the fish or both together with a brief story of how, where and when the fish was caught. A photograph is not essential to win an award but it is desirable.

8. The entry blank printed above, or an exact copy must be used. It must be signed by the person catching the fish and by two witnesses who examined the fish and verified its weight and measurements. The contestant agrees, if requested to do so by the judges, to furnish an affidavit attesting to the truth of all statements made in the entry.

9. Contestants may make as many enries in all classes as they wish.

PRIZE AWARDS

In each of the classes the angler entering the fish which is adjudged to be the largest in its class will receive a trophy in recognition of his or her accomplishment.

Additional blanks may be had free of charge by addressing Outdoors Editor, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan.
